A. & M. TO MEET VARSITY TOMORROW

Big Preparations Being Made for First of Two-Game Series With Texas.

Students of the A. & M. College, residents of the campus and friends of the institution will meet in a grand rally and mass meeting tonight, preparatory to the first game of the series with the Texas University baseball warriors, which will be played at Kyle field Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. At the meeting tonight leading athletes, including all the baseball men, and those who are counted as the best friends of athletics at the college, will make short talks and a general " pep " meeting will follow. Wednesday will be celebrated also as a holiday.

The Aggies are expecting to win tomorrow's game and it is hoped that there will be a big attendance from Bryan. The college boys have met defeat but once this year and in seven other games have whipped their opponents by decisive scores. With the exception of Thodberg, who sustained a broken ankle Monday, the Farmers are in splendid shape.

Olson and Russell probably will be the batteries in the opening contest. Cherry will be at first, Berlinger at second, Brailsford at third, Rigney at short, Kendricks at left field, Hooker at center field and Powers at right field. Roger Edmondson, a former Trinity University star, now a member of the Houston league club, will umpire the two games at College, insuring fair, impartial and capable umpiring.

Today's rains will not affect the grounds and unless it rains until the very hour for the opening of the game, the grounds will be in good shape, as they are so well drained.

COL. ROOSEVELT ON WITNESS STAND

Testifies in Barnes Suit Against Him. Barnes Introduced But One Witness.

[By Associated Press.] Syracuse, N. Y., April 20.—Counsel for William Barnes in his libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt, rested their case today, after presenting evidence to prove the publication of the alleged libelous statements.

Barnes' counsel called only one witness, John McGrath, Colonel Roosevelt's private secretary, who testified he gave out the statement complained of to newspaper men at Oyster Bay. It appeared in sixty-eight papers and charged rottenness in politics. Colonel Roosevelt, smiling, took the stand in his own defense this afternoon. He gave a sketch of his public life from the beginning.

STORIES OF THE DAY.

Thinking of His Wife.

A colored man engaged in a short job in an Irvington house the other day expressed himself quite forcibly to the man of the house, the subject being the outlook for an increase in emigration from Europe to this country, perhaps next year, as the consequence of the great war. "I'm posed," said the colored man, "to all this mess of people coming to this country."

"Why so? This country ought to be open to all the world, to everybody who wants to improve their condition."

"I don't think so; no, sir. I don't like to see these foreigners coming in here taking work away from our wives."—Indianapolis News.

Grabbing the Benefits.

Jones joined a beneficial organization and, two of the brothers meeting on the street one afternoon, he became the subject of their conversation.

"I understand, Jim," remarked one of the pair, "that Jones is on the sick list again. Is that true?"

"Yes," answered the second, "he has been laid up for about three weeks."

"Awfully sorry to hear that," sympathetically returned the first. "Guess I will have to run around and see him. Where's his home?"

"Hasn't got any," answered the other, with a significant smile. "Just as soon as he joined our lodge he gave up his home and leased a cot in a hospital."—Philadelphia Record.

Limited Dissipation.

A small bespectacled man was about to take an examination for life insurance.

"You don't dissipate, do you?" asked the physician as he made ready for tests. "Not a fast liver, or anything of that sort?"

The little man hesitated a moment, looked a bit frightened, then replied in a small, piping voice: "I sometimes chew a little gum."—Collier's Weekly.

"The Oregon woman, 72 years old, who killed a bear with a hoe certainly takes the cake," says an admiring Springfield paper. The hoe cake or the battercake?—Kansas City Journal.

Hilda—If I grow up and get married shall I have a husband like daddy?

Mother—I hope so, dear. Hilda—If I don't get married shall I be an old maid like Aunt Ellen?

Mother—Yes. Hilda—Well, I'm in a fix—and no mistake!—Washington Herald.

HAD THE PROOF ON THE CHICKENS

Unique Method Adopted by Wisconsin Man to Prove Neighbor's Hens Raided His Garden.

[By Associated Press.] Chicago, Ill., April 20.—A special to the Tribune from Stevens Point, Wis., states that Wisconsin village is shaking with laughter at the hens of H. K. West, which recently returned to their owner with labels hanging from their beaks announcing that they had been robbing the garden of F. M. Sackett of its newly planted needs.

West was unable to believe his neighbor's complaints of the hens, so Sackett scattered about his garden grains of corn to each of which was attached a thread and from each thread a small placard. They bore such legends as these: "I have just been scratching in Mr. Sackett's yard;" "My owner does not feed me enough and I have to visit the neighbors."

When West saw these cards dangling from the bills of his hens he admitted Sackett's proof was convincing.
